8:30-9:30 AM Educational Sessions

Session #1 - Social Media that Connects Community

Alexis Hauge, City of Mason City

Location: Cedar C

Ready to move beyond simply posting flyers and event reminders? This session will provide parks and recreation professionals with practical social media skills, real-world tips, and proven strategies to create content that connects with their community. Learn how to identify meaningful stories, create engaging content with purpose, increase community involvement, and develop a simple content plan that works. Through examples, discussion, and hands-on planning, participants will leave with actionable ideas they can implement immediately.

Session #2 -Balancing Access & Sustainability in Water Recreation

Paul Marston & Paul Nelson, ISG

Location: Cedar DE

The planning and design of recreational areas that incorporate lakes, rivers, or streams require solutions that address user needs while restoring and conserving the waterway, reinvigorating underused space, and enhancing the area's natural resources. This session uncovers a clear path to implementation that leverages public interest in water recreation to integrate water quality and ecological outcomes in recreational design.

Session #3 - Engaging Adults 55+: Programs that make a Difference

Danya Thoms & Katie Poirier, City of Urbandale

Location: Cedar AB

The Urbandale Senior Center caters to the 55+ population of the Des Moines Metro with daily, weekly, and monthly programs that connect "seniors" with social programs and crafts, educational opportunities, and health and wellness programs we offer at a reasonable price. Come learn about our most popular programs and classes and what it takes to operate and support a variety of senior citizen programs in your community.

9:30-9:45 AM - Break

Presented by: MSA Professional Services

TUESDAY - SEPTEMBER 15

9:45-10:45 AM Educational Sessions

Session #4 - If We Save It, Then What? -Planning and managing Historic Sites and Assets for Parks and Recreation

Ann Cejka, City of Cedar Rapids

Location: Cedar C

Local governments often inherit historic properties through community-driven preservation efforts rather than through intentional planning. This session highlights the key questions leaders should ask before accepting or acquiring a historic property, along with the core mission, staffing, funding and operational considerations needed to manage these sites successfully. Participants will gain practical guidance for evaluating, planning, and sustaining historic resources within a municipal parks and recreation network.

Session #5 - Parks/Conservation Session

Zac Hall, Kirkwood Community College

Location: Cedar DE

TBD

Session #6 - Bang for your Buck: Creating Community Experiences Through Aquatics & Recreation

Jordan Allsup & Jack Eckstaine, City of Grinnell

Location: Cedar AB

Explore low-cost, high-impact events that create memorable experiences that boost participation and generate positive community support. This session will highlight creative programming ideas, practical strategies for maximizing limited budgets, and ways to develop partnerships that reduce costs while enhancing the participant experience. Leave with fresh ideas you can implement immediately to provide meaningful recreation opportunities while making the most of your resources.

10:45-11:00 AM - Break

Presented by:

MUSCO Sports Lighting

11:00-12:00 PM Educational Sessions

Session #7 - Park System Master Planning that Connects Facilities, Programs & Equity

Jay Lotthammer & Claire Roth, ISG

Location: Cedar C

This session will share practical insights for developing an actionable parks and recreation master plan using a people-focused, three-step approach: Assess, Envision, Implement. Participants will learn how community engagement, data, and staff expertise can inform priorities, identify needs and opportunities, and create achievable recommendations for policy, programming, and capital planning. Common planning challenges and real-world examples will also be explored.

TUESDAY - SEPTEMBER 15

11:00-12:00 PM Educational Sessions continued

Session #8 - Try Lacrosse

Jeff Kueter, Iowa Lacrosse Association

Location: Cedar DE

Lacrosse is one of the fastest growing sports in the U.S. and, in Iowa, more than 700 boys and girls participated in competitive play during spring 2026. This session will review how Iowa's lacrosse clubs are engaging with their area Parks & Rec departments and outline a new proposal to create a competitive play offering operated by Parks & Rec. The session also will review grant programs available to provide equipment.

Session #9 - Operational Insights: Lessons Learned, Challenges Faced, and What's Next (ELN Roundtable)

Mallory Iverson, IPRA

Location: Cedar AB

The busy summer season is behind us—now it's time to reflect, recharge, and learn from one another. Join fellow Emerging Leaders Network members for an interactive roundtable discussion focused on the successes, challenges, and lessons learned throughout the summer. We'll discuss the tasks and responsibilities that consume the most time, strategies for improving efficiency, opportunities to automate or streamline processes, and approaches to preventing burnout while maintaining a healthy work-life balance. Participants are encouraged to share experiences, ask questions, and leave with practical ideas they can apply in their own agencies.

FOR ELN MEMBERS ONLY, LEARN MORE

TUESDAY - SEPTEMBER 15

1:30-2:30 PM Educational Sessions

Session #10 - Preserving the Past, Building the Future: Historic Park Assets & Capital Improvements

Daniel Calvert, Lee Wheelock, & Stacey Hanley, City of Des Moines

Location: Cedar C

This session will use recent City of Des Moines Parks and Recreation projects to show how historic preservation can be successfully integrated into capital improvement planning and project delivery. Examples may include the Union Park Rocket Slide restoration, WPA-era enclosed shelter renovations and conversions, and interpretive projects that connect residents to the history and meaning of public spaces. Presenters will discuss how the team identified historic assets, navigated requirements and partnerships, balanced preservation with modern use, accessibility and safety, and communicated project value to the public. The session will emphasize practical lessons learned, community response, and tools other park and recreation agencies can adapt for their own historic facilities and park infrastructure.

Session #11 - Recruiting & Retaining Volunteers

Taylor Kruse & Ian Cawley, Houses Into Homes

Location: Cedar DE

Do you struggle to recruit volunteers for one-time or ongoing projects? Do your volunteers frequently no-call, no-show? Do you ever avoid utilizing volunteers altogether because the training, supervision, and management creates more problems than it solves? Learn from two experts in the non-profit social services field who manage >1,000 volunteers annually from a wide mix of ages, abilities, and group sizes by curating thoughtful experiences and communicating effectively before, during, and after a volunteer activity. We've made lots of mistakes and we want you to learn from them, and better engage your communities in your work!

Session #12 - High Impact, Low Cost Park Activation Strategies

Shawn O'Shea, MSA Professional Services

Location: Cedar AB

Meaningful park activation doesn't require major capital investments. This session explores practical, low-cost strategies for transforming underutilized park spaces into vibrant community destinations through flexible programming, community partnerships, and simple infrastructure improvements. From pop-up events, markets, and organized activities to story walks, community gardens, and outdoor fitness spaces, attendees will discover scalable approaches that increase park use, build community connections, and create momentum for future investments. Learn how to leverage existing assets, test new ideas with minimal risk, and maximize impact with limited resources.

2:30-2:45 PM - Break

Presented by: Pilot Rock

TUESDAY - SEPTEMBER 15

2:45-3:45 PM Educational Sessions

Session #13 - Conflict to Conversations: Responding to Escalated Patrons

Malory Smysor, City of Iowa City

Location: Cedar C

This engaging presentation is designed for leaders who want to master the art of handling upset customers without breaking a sweat. You'll learn practical techniques to stay calm, listen effectively, and de-escalate tense situations - while keeping your professionalism (and sanity) intact. You will learn how to identify escalating situations, how to respond to negative interactions, and get tools to understand how you impact outcomes.

Session #14 - RECreating the Floodplain/Floodway: The Right Use, in the Right Place

Casey Byers & Reid Stamer, Bolton & Menk

Location: Cedar DE

Floodplains and floodways offer unique opportunities for creative, flexible recreation when matched with the right uses. This session highlights how to align site conditions with appropriate amenities that can coexist with periodic flooding and how these design choices influence maintenance and long-term performance. Attendees will explore real-world examples of successful park and trail spaces in these environments.

Session #15 - After the disaster: Lessons Learned from the Derecho of 2020

Todd Fagan, City of Cedar Rapids

Location: Cedar AB

Recovering from a natural disaster requires careful planning long after the immediate response. This session will highlight lessons learned from post-event debris management and reforestation efforts, including recommendations for bidding and managing large-scale cleanup contracts. Attendees will also gain practical insights into what has—and has not—worked in restoring community tree canopies, helping agencies better prepare for future recovery efforts

4:00-5:00 PM Educational Sessions

Session #16 - Managing Up: Working Smarter with Your Supervisor

Rachelle Stewart, City of Cedar Rapids

Location: C

Managing up is about taking ownership of how you work with your supervisor to create a more productive, collaborative and less frustrating work environment. Whether you're coordinating programs, managing facilities, leading seasonal staff, or supporting departmental operations, your success is often influenced by how effectively you communicate and align with your manager. In this interactive session, participants will learn practical strategies to clarify expectations, communicate proactively, adapt to different leadership styles, and navigate workplace challenges with confidence. Through discussion, self-assessment, and real-world examples, attendees will leave with tools they can immediately apply to strengthen work relationships and improve day-to-day effectiveness.

Session #17 - Safe Play for All - Playground Assessment

Jerry Kirk & Todd Odeen, City of Cedar Rapids

Location: Cedar DE

Discuss the methods, documentation and record keeping for inspection and safety of the 52 playgrounds we oversee at Cedar Rapids. 2 CPSI's oversee the process and organize all maintenance of the playgrounds. We will also touch on vandalism frustrations and how to handle playgrounds to make safe.

Session #18 - Golf Course Grounds Management

Jason Koester, Grinnell College

Location: Cedar AB

A session on general practices implemented for a successful golf course grounds, from proper mower, aeration, sand top dressing, seeding, PGR applications, fertilization. In depth with depend on the audience and their experience in the field, which will be determined by asking the group at the start of the session.

TUESDAY EVENING SOCIAL

Session #19 - Re-imagining Swimming Lesson Registration... A Simpler Way to Do It!

Brian Ruffles & Sidney Carstensen, City of Cedar Rapids

Location: Cedar C

Swimming lessons registration can be difficult for both patrons and Aquatics professionals. All of the different levels, timeslots, and changes can lead to a lot of staff hours, not to mention refunds and cancellations. This session will go into a new way to register for swimming lessons without having to have parents selecting levels for their children.

Session #20 - Leading with Alignment: Anchoring Parks & Recreation Excellence in Values

Kim Downs, City of Marion

Location: Cedar DE

Great leadership doesn't start with a strategic plan; it starts from within. In the fast-paced world of municipal parks and recreation, leaders are constantly balancing community demands, budget constraints, and operational hurdles. To navigate these challenges effectively, leaders must deeply understand and articulate their core values. Grounded in the proven principles of Kouzes and Posner's The Leadership Challenge, this session explores the critical practice of "Modeling the Way." Participants will discover how to uncover their personal and organizational values, align their daily administrative practices with those values, and build authentic trust across their teams. By learning to lead with clarity and consistency, attendees will walk away with actionable tools to transition from everyday task-managers to transformative team leaders.

Session #21 - Keep Them Coming Back: Strategies for Seasonal Staff Retention roundtable

Colby Vlieger & Katie McGrane, City of Ankeny

Location: Cedar C

Recruiting seasonal staff is challenging enough—keeping great employees returning year after year can be even harder. Join this interactive roundtable discussion focused on seasonal staff retention across parks and recreation, including aquatics, recreation programming, camps, special events, and more. Participants will share successful strategies, lessons learned, and creative approaches to building a positive workplace culture that encourages staff to return season after season. Whether you're struggling with retention or looking to strengthen an already successful program, come prepared to learn from peers and contribute your own ideas.

SPEAKER BIOS

Alexis Hauge, Marketing & Communications Specialist, City of Mason City

Lexi Hauge is the Marketing & Communications Specialist for Mason City Parks & Recreation, where she oversees marketing, social media, and community engagement. She previously interned in marketing at Sukup Manufacturing Co. and led marketing for Campus Activities at the University of Northern Iowa, helping grow its social media platforms by more than five times. Lexi is passionate about creating engaging content and helping organizations use social media to connect with their communities.

Brian Ruffles, Aquatics Program Supervisor, City of Cedar Rapids

Brian has been the Aquatics Program Supervisor for The City of Cedar Rapids since the spring of 2022. Prior to that, he was the Aquatics Director at Coe College and oversaw the creation and growth of their swimming lessons program. Brian has been involved in swimming lessons in some capacity since the summer of 2000 and has experience working in five different swimming lessons curriculums, along with helping to create two curriculums from scratch.

Casey Byers, Urban Design Practice Leader, Bolton & Menk, Inc.

Casey Byers is the Parks Practice Area Leader at Bolton & Menk and has been practicing landscape architecture for 20 years. From neighborhood and community parks to open space and recreational trails, Casey has been guiding communities and stakeholders to find creative solutions to complex park and recreation projects across Iowa and the upper Midwest.

Claire Roth, Planner, ISG

Claire Roth is a planner at ISG specializing in park system master planning, community engagement, and strategic planning. She partners with municipalities and park agencies to evaluate park assets, engage residents, prioritize investments, and develop actionable plans that guide the future of parks, trails, recreation facilities, and open spaces. Claire is passionate about helping communities create park systems that reflect local priorities while remaining sustainable, accessible, and resilient for years to come.

SPEAKER BIOS

Colby Vlieger, Recreation Supervisor, City of Ankeny

Colby has been in Parks and Recreation for over 7 years and worked briefly in aquatics before transitioning to athletics. Working in Ankeny the last 5 years, he has really enjoyed running the youth leagues and connecting with returning coaches each year. Seeing the positive experience they create for their youth is incredibly rewarding. Outside of work, Colby stays busy with his 2 young kids and is currently coaching his oldest in 3 year old soccer.

Daniel Calvert, Development & Planning Administrator, City of Des Moines

Daniel Calvert, CPRP, CPSI, currently serves as Development and Planning Administrator for the City of Des Moines Parks and Recreation Department, leading capital projects for parks, trails and recreation improvements that honor a place and create a memorable space. Originally from Des Moines, his career has taken him from Florida to Atlanta, and the Cincinnati region, and now back in his hometown of Des Moines. While in Fort Myers, Florida, Daniel was appointed by the City Council to the Historic Preservation Commission. Collectively these experiences offered a diverse view of how public and historic spaces function, evolve and are embraced. That experience still shapes his work today - because the best park projects do more than preserve the past; they give it a useful, accessible, and memorable next chapter.

Danya Thoms, Recreation Supervisor, City of Urbandale

Danya Thoms serves as the Recreation Supervisor for the City of Urbandale Parks & Recreation Department, where she oversees senior services and community recreation programming. She is passionate about creating meaningful opportunities that promote lifelong learning, health and wellness, social connection, and active living for older adults. Danya has worked in Parks & Recreation for 11 years and has served in a variety of roles, including childcare, youth programming, adult recreation, aquatics, event planning and food and beverage operations. Her diverse experience has provided her with a well-rounded perspective on creating engaging programs and fostering strong community connections.

SPEAKER BIOS

Ian Cawley, Executive Director, Houses into Homes

Ian Cawley is the Executive Director of Houses into Homes, a 10-year-old nonprofit dedicated to providing furniture and household essentials to individuals and families in Johnson County. After a successful career in sales, a “midlife clarity” helped accelerate his transition into more meaningful, community-driven work. Before stepping into the Executive Director role, Ian served as the organization’s Interim Volunteer Coordinator and Director of Operations, gaining firsthand experience in volunteer engagement, recruitment, and daily operations. His journey through these roles has shaped the way he approaches organizational growth—focusing on strong relationships, meaningful volunteer experiences, and fostering a community where people feel valued, empowered, and connected to the mission. Ian is also an avid ‘park-hopper’ on the weekends, alongside his 6 year old daughter!

Jack Eckstaine, Recreation Coordinator, City of Grinnell

Jack Eckstaine has seven years of experience in the park and recreation field and five years experience working in aquatics. He is currently serving as the Recreation Coordinator for the City of Grinnell.

Jason Koester, Golf Course Superintendent, Grinnell College

Jason Koester, CGCS, is the Athletic Field Manager and Golf Course Superintendent at Grinnell College. Being involved in Turfgrass management his entire life, he has a true passion for natural Turfgrass, its positive impact on the environment, recreational aspects, and great employment opportunities. He enjoys giving back to the Turfgrass industry through volunteer board service during his career with the ITI, ISTMA, IGCSA, and ISHS. Jason enjoys spending time with his family, attending sporting events, classic cars, and coaching basketball.

SPEAKER BIOS

Jay Lotthammer, Sports & Recreation Development Strategist, ISG

Jay Lotthammer served as the Parks and Recreation Director for the City of Eden Prairie, Minnesota, from 2007 to 2023. During his 16-year tenure, Jay led significant enhancements to the city's parks and recreation facilities. Beyond his role as Parks and Recreation Director, Lotthammer served as the Interim City Manager and as a board member and board chair of the Eden Prairie Community Foundation. Before his time in Eden Prairie, Jay spent 19 years with the City of Brooklyn Park, Minnesota, where he rose from a seasonal part-time employee to the Director of Parks and Recreation. During his time in Brooklyn Park, he was responsible for extensive program development, the establishment of many neighborhood parks, the oversight of two golf courses and the development of a premier athletic complex. In addition to his organizational leadership, Jay dedicated 12 years to teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in sport and facility management at Concordia University - St. Paul. He holds a master's degree in Sport Management and a bachelor's degree in Physical Education from the University of Minnesota. Jay is now a part-time consultant with ISG, where he brings his expertise to parks and recreation departments by guiding park development, master planning, operational analysis, and recreation program evaluation.

Jeff Kueter, President, Iowa Lacrosse Association

Jeff Kueter is President of the Iowa Lacrosse Association. Iowa Lacrosse represents the youth and High School lacrosse clubs in Iowa. They support competitive play, officials recruitment and training, as well as seek partnerships to grow lacrosse in other areas in Iowa. Jeff is also the founder and president of the Cedar Rapids – Iowa City Lacrosse Club, known as the Kingfisher Club. He credits relationships with Parks & Rec departments in the region for the club's growth and continued success.

SPEAKER BIOS

Jerry Kirk, Recreation Maintenance Manager, City of Cedar Rapids

Jerry has been in the Parks and Recreation Field for 20 years and in maintenance for his entire life. He has been at the City of Cedar Rapids for 16 years and worked in a Parks and Recreation capacity in other communities before coming to Cedar Rapids. He holds a strong belief that Parks and Recreation are a must for all ages to connect with nature and other people. The ability to have areas that are inclusive for all to play is a tremendous asset for our patrons and he is proud to be able to be a part of those operations. His focus is managing the maintenance of the six pools, Recreational Facilities and the 52 playgrounds within the city. He is a Certified Parks and Recreation Professional, Certified Pool Operator, Certified Playground Safety Inspector, Certified Backflow Tester and a Certified Pesticide Applicator. My hobbies are playing in a band in my spare time and serving the community I live in as a Volunteer Fireman [35 years] and Mayor 27 plus years.

Jordan Allsup, Parks & Recreation Director, City of Grinnell

Jordan Allsup has been in the field of parks and recreation for a total of 15 years. He has served as the Parks and Recreation Director for the City of Grinnell for eight years.

Katie McGrane, Recreation Supervisor - Aquatics, City of Ankeny

Katie has worked in the aquatics field for 11 years. She has experience working for municipal aquatic centers, University of Northern Iowa Recreation Services, and the YMCA, as well as getting the opportunity to work for the Navy MWR in Yokosuka, Japan. Katie has been with Ankeny Parks & Recreation for 4 years and currently oversees two aquatic centers as well as a variety of youth and adult recreation programs, sports leagues, and special events.

Katie Poirier, Senior Recreation Coordinator, City of Urbandale

Katie has worked for the City of Urbandale's Senior Recreation Center for almost 9 years. She began as an administrative technician and became the Recreation Coordinator in March of 2020. Katie lives in Des Moines, with her husband, son, daughter, 2 dogs and 2 cats. Katie hopes that you will come away from this session with a few ideas to support the senior citizens in your community in aging well.

SPEAKER BIOS

Kim Downs, Deputy City Manager, City of Marion

Kim Downs is the Deputy City Manager for the City of Marion, Iowa, where she leads the daily operations of a community of approximately 43,000 residents. In this role, she oversees Public Works, Engineering, Community Development, Parks and Recreation, and Economic Development, ensuring that city services run efficiently and effectively. She also spearheads regional collaboration initiatives for infrastructure and federal funding projects, reflecting her commitment to creating sustainable and thriving communities. Kim's career in municipal government spans nearly 26 years, beginning in the early 1980s as a social worker before transitioning into local government. She started as a part-time city clerk in a small Iowa town and progressed through positions including deputy city clerk, city clerk, and city manager over 18 years. Her extensive experience has given her a deep understanding of municipal operations, team leadership, and public service, allowing her to guide her teams with purpose and integrity. Kim holds a Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Administration from Mount Mercy University and a Master of Business Administration from the University of Dubuque. She is a strong advocate for women's leadership development and is actively involved with professional organizations such as the Iowa City Managers Association and the International City/County Management Association. Guided by a personal set of five core values, she emphasizes authenticity, service to others, and purposeful leadership in all aspects of her work.

Lee Wheelock, Deputy Senior Park Planner, City of Des Moines

Lee Wheelock is Deputy Senior Park Planner for Des Moines Parks and Recreation and a Licensed Professional Landscape Architect with more than 16 years of service to the City. His work includes park planning, design, and capital-improvement projects that balance community use, accessibility, safety, and historic preservation. Highlights of his historic restoration and adaptive reuse project work includes the restoration of Union Park's landmark Rocket Slide and the renovation and enclosure of WPA-era shelters at MacRae, Greenwood, Columbus, and Drake parks, adapting these historic structures into welcoming, year-round community gathering spaces while retaining their distinctive character. Through these projects, Lee has helped preserve Des Moines' park heritage and extend its value for future generations.

Taylor Kruse, Warehouse & Volunteer Coordinator, Houses into Homes

Taylor Kruse is the Warehouse & Volunteer Coordinator at Houses into Homes, where she brings positivity, connection, and a passion for creating a fun and rewarding volunteer experience while supporting the organization's mission. She graduated from the University of Iowa with a Bachelor of Science in Sports and Recreation Management, where she developed a passion for community engagement and volunteer programming. During her internship with the City of Ankeny Parks and Recreation, she gained experience supporting volunteer initiatives and saw firsthand the impact that meaningful volunteer opportunities can have. At Houses into Homes, Taylor fosters a welcoming warehouse environment where volunteers feel connected, appreciated, and excited to return. She believes volunteers are more than just helping hands—they are valued members of the team who should have a voice, take ownership, and see the direct impact of their work. Through relationship-building, collaboration, and a lot of laughter, she helps create a volunteer culture where people feel like they belong and know their time is truly valued.

Todd Fagan, City Arborist, City of Cedar Rapids

Todd Fagan is an ISA Certified Arborist and TRAQ-qualified professional with more than 25 years of experience managing urban forestry programs in both Iowa and Illinois. As the City Arborist for Cedar Rapids, he oversees a $2 million municipal forestry operation, leading efforts to improve safety, efficiency, and tree care standards across the city. His work includes modernizing tree planting and protection specifications, updating city code, guiding contractor compliance, and strengthening cross-department collaboration to support healthy, resilient urban forests. Todd was a key member in Cedar Rapids' post-derecho restoration planning, providing expert guidance that helped shape the ReLeaf plan to replant 40,000 trees after the 2020 storm.

Todd Odeen, Maintenance Repair Worker II, City of Cedar Rapids

Todd has been with the City of Cedar Rapids Parks and Recreation department for 30 years. In this time, he has been a Certified Pool Operator for 32 years working in Pools in his prior employment. He is a Certified Backflow Prevention Assembly Tester [25 years] and earned his Certified Playground Safety Inspector 6 years ago. He oversees all playground inspections, documentation and maintenance of the 52 playgrounds in our Parks systems. He also is on the Maintenance team for our 6 swimming pools as well as various other Recreational Facilities. His vast maintenance skills and mechanical knowledge has made him mentor to our other staff as well as other departments within the city.
